Within Arc's Authority

Are the costs and charges of the product compatible with the needs, objectives and characteristics of the target market ?

Remuneration and commissions throughout the distribution chain are subject to continuous evaluation and oversight by Arc's Conduct Team to ensure they are commensurate to the costs associated with the roles and responsibilities of each distributing party so that they are appropriate and justifiable.

Where a distributing agent's commission is above Arc' commission tolerance, a full justification must be provided to Arc's Conduct Team who will carry out an assessment to ensure there is no potential customer detriment. Arc reserves the right to withdraw authority from distributors who do not meet our fair pricing requirements.

Arc do not apply any fees for mid-term adjustments, however it is up to the distributor if they choose to charge fees which must be appropriate and reasonable and subject to oversight by Arc's Conduct Team. Fees may also apply to the core insurance product to which our add-on attaches.

Is the charging structure of the product appropriately transparent for the target market, such as that it does not disguise charges or is too complex to understand ?

Where our product attaches to the core insurance offering as an optional add-on, the charging structure will be clearly identifiable as an optional extension in a customer's quotation or renewal invitation.

Where our product is embedded into the core insurance offering forming part of the wider core product benefits, no individual breakdown of charges will be provided to the customer.

Do the charges undermine the return expectations of the insurance product?

No, Arc's Conduct Team ensure commissions and remuneration continue to be commensurate to each party's roles and responsibilities in the distribution chain.
